Well, I already had the program activated, having run it again this time with my key. And its asking me for my date of birth and current location, etc, etc. But the final screen, where it actually asks for the activation code, is the same screen as before! The main reason for this is that the uninstallation of an application inside of the Store takes place inside of the PowerShell shell. You can use the GUI to uninstall the application. Sometimes, when I use the GUI uninstaller, I also get an error that states "Could not find the file specified." Once you have done so, then you will understand my desperation, and perhaps be able to predict just a little of my bewildered rage at being left high and dry by Embarcadero once again. The time span was approximately 6 weeks, and involved someone who had posted a "Bad Request" reply after registering and activating their product. The reply contained the "Missing key file" error. If the ignition key is not removed when the vehicle is powered off, the activation of the vehicle's security system may not occur. If the driver leaves the vehicle, the security system may not activate the vehicle's alarm or security lights. "The changes required to allow Delphi in 32-bit mode on 64-bit Windows systems and change the Pascal compiler settings to run in 32-bit mode have been back-ported to the 2009 and 2010 version of the compiler that shipped with Delphi 2009 and 2010. This allows Delphi and RAD Studio applications written for Delphi 2009 and 2010 to run in 32-bit mode on 64-bit Windows, as well as in 64-bit mode for Windows 7 and Windows 8. This makes it possible to build applications that interface with a 32-bit subsystem. Applications built with Delphi 2009 and 2010 that use the FMX components, or the Embarcadero RAD Studio mobile and desktop SDKs, can now target both 32-bit and 64-bit Windows mobile and desktop operating systems, and can be packaged for both 32-bit and 64-bit desktop and mobile operating systems.

You can also use the Excel file (with the appropriate profile) to reconcile inventory files across different departments. Third party applications can interact with Excel files, too. The most popular option is Excel Services. You can sync a document with this tool. Still, it might not be too late to help you out: Make sure your Delphi is fully registered - go to http://docwiki.embarcadero.com/RADStudio/en/Registry_Manager and check if your version matches; With a new Delphi installation, try to install in the same directory as your other RAD Studio installs; Using the information from the Initialization file, I've been able to uninstall/reinstall and transfer it to another machine. Unfortunately, for some reason, Delphi still thinks that the old files are the "current" ones and refuses to reinstall the application. But you can get the old installation of the IDESdk by doing an "Run as Administrator" and typing regedit. You can then browse to the sub-folder that contains the registry keys for the registration and click on the uninstall-registration-command. That'll delete the whole things and you'll be on your merry way again. I'm going to have to try something else with this thing. On the off chance that this fixes it, the uninstall instructions are below (I'd prefer not to risk nuking a virtual machine if this works):

1. Start a Command Prompt as an Administrator and go to the directory where the regsiter.slip file is.
2. Type the following:
"C:\Program Files (x86)\Embarcadero\RAD Studio\8.0\bin\regedit.exe"
3. Go to the "GUID" section and remove the "8669a662".
4. Type the following to find all registry keys that have "key" as the subkey:
"C:\Program Files (x86)\Embarcadero\RAD Studio\8.0\bin\regedit.exe"
"HKEY_LOCAL_MACHINE\SOFTWARE\Embarcadero\BDS\Version\10.0\Registrator"
5. Find and delete everything in the "Keys" section.
6. Find and delete everything in the "Data" section.
7. Find and delete everything in the "Type" section. 8. Find and delete everything in the "Config" section and the "Sessions" section. 9. Find and delete everything in the "Parameters" section. 10. Find and delete everything in the "Execute" section and the "Execute Custom Parameters" section. 11. 5ec8ef588b
